Newport News, VA

Newport News/Williamsburg International Airport is in the process of developing an updated Airport Master Plan and Airport Layout Plan (ALP), which will help determine the future of the airport. Newport News/Williamsburg International Airport (PHF) will hold a public information session on the Newport News/Williamsburg International Airport's Master Plan. The Airport Master Plan is being developed in accordance with Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) guidance and is principally funded by the FAA and Virginia Department of Aviation (DOAV). This public information session will serve as an opportunity for the community to learn about the Airport Master Plan process, interact with the project team, and provide input. The Airport's last Master Plan and ALP were completed in 2014.

Since 2014 the Airport industry has changed, and this Master Plan will examine the facilities needed to accommodate these changes. This session will focus on the planning process, the existing airport inventory and aviation forecasts. Please join us at this early stage of the Master Plan to provide your valuable contribution to the preparation of the Airport Master Plan.
